

MODERN SLAVERY

Introduction

There are as many as 21 million people in forced labour around the world, which is estimated to generate a profit of £120 billion per annum. Organisations can be implicated in modern slavery both directly and indirectly in a variety of ways such as, in their own operations, through their global supply chains and through their involvement with business partners.

Course Overview

At the end of the course, trainees will be able to:

- Understand what modern slavery means
- Recognise what the Modern Slavery Act 2015 is
- Identify the signs of modern slavery
- Identify what makes people vulnerable to modern slavery
- Recognise how to make a change to modern slavery
- And understand how to report modern slavery.

Course chapters

1. Introduction to Modern Slavery

In this section, we'll cover what modern slavery means today, what the modern slavery act is and the reality of modern slavery.

2. Recognising Modern Slavery

In this section, we'll cover what the signs of modern slavery are, the different modern slavery offences and how we can make a change.

3. Taking Action Against Modern Slavery

In this section, we'll cover steps your organisation takes, how to report modern slavery and how to create a modern slavery statement.

Who will it benefit?

Ideal for workers who work in any type of organisation who have large expansive work forces, who work with another organisation who do the same. The most vulnerable sectors are agriculture, construction, hospitality and manufacturing. Anyone can be the victim of Modern Slavery inside and outside of your organisation so it bears keeping this in mind and to train yourself and all your staff in becoming aware of Modern Slavery.

How it works?

Modern Slavery is delivered online as an interactive course to each trainee on their computers, or portable device at any internet enabled location. The interactive course is engaging, informative and exciting to use.

Using up-to-date, modern graphical images, users will be faced with a selection of interactive elements and mini quizzes to test their knowledge.

Users will receive informative advice and guidance and will be tested on their understanding of the subject at the end of the course by completing the compulsory self-test.

This course also features a risk checklist which asks the user a series of questions relating to their current working environment.

Course Format: Interactive
Running Time: 25-30 minutes
